

anca
australian national capital artists

SHARING A STUDIO

If a tenant wants to share their studio with another person, that individual must submit an application and be interviewed by the New Tenants Committee. If the applicant is deemed suitable for a studio at ANCA, they will then sign their own licensing agreement and become liable for payment of half of the rent for their assigned studio and will begin their own 3 year term. The new tenant does not need to go onto the studio waiting list.